Happenings that Interest our Citizens and Visitors

Mrs. Lassagne.

From Saturday's Daily.
DIED—Mrs. Caroline H. Lassagne, at her home in Washington, D. C., Friday, December 2nd, at 3:05 P. M.

"But O, for a touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!"

Are the sweet and tender words from a poet's heart, wrung with grief over the loss of a friend. Surely these are the words that in some measure express the feelings of every one who knew Carrie Hawley. Was she not "Carrie" always to those who had known her through her happy girlhood days and young womanhood? Even after her marriage to Dr. Lassagne, she was Carrie still. We knew her as few others did and the pen rebels when we would say that she is dead.

Yesterday at 3 o'clock, in Washington, D. C., the sweet spirit of this most lovable woman left its earthly tenement and went to dwell in the House of Many Mansions. "Heaven is richer; we are poorer, because she has been with us."

Known to all of our people and so well loved by every one, that words seem dumb in expressing the great grief. She was an idolized daughter and she could not have been otherwise for God bestowed upon her the choicest blessings of mind and heart. She loved her father and her mother as few daughters love. Never a cross word in all her life did she give them.

In school we knew her best. She was the best pupil we ever had. She reflected more credit upon our schools than any graduate that ever went out from us. When she went from us, our old teacher in the university termed her a luxury. She was the life of the Alumni Association and her place can never be filled. For five years she taught in our schools, and she was a true teacher. Every boy and girl that came in touch with her felt the influence of her noble womanhood, an influence that will live in eternity.

In every movement for the betterment of her home city, where a woman could lead, she was the leader. She did not seek popularity and disliked publicity. From her great heart and beautiful mind, she was ready to help everyone.

She was the counsellor of many who knew her and her advice was always good. Surely if earth ever had a perfect woman, that one was our beloved friend.

Great as is her loss to her friends, immeasurable it is to her father, to her mother, to her brother, to him in whose hands she placed her life, and to the dear little one that can never know the tender love of his mother here.

We cannot say more because the heart o'erflows.

A FRIEND.

Myron D. Jordan leaves on the evening train for St. Louis, where he goes to meet Dr. Lassagne, who is accompanying the remains to this city. It is now believed that they will arrive here Monday morning, and if this proves correct, the funeral will take place at the home of Captain and Mrs. Hawley on Tuesday, at an hour not yet named. The pall bearers will be E. M. Bare, Prof. Barnett, Wm. Duncan, Myron Jordan, Clarence Foreman and Miss Vance Moore.

The baby boy will be kept in the charge of Miss Nellie Puckett in Washington until Dr. Lassagne's return there. While his intention has not been stated, it will probably be the Doctor's wish that the grandmother have its care, and in this event Miss Puckett will return with the baby to this city.

The deceased was born in Girard, Ohio, April 15th, 1872, and since childhood has resided in this city. And only a few weeks ago she went to Washington, D. C., to join her husband, Dr. Lassagne, who is in the government service there.

Tributes of Respect

From Wednesday's Daily.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon there gathered at the home of her respected parents, the hosts of friends who desired to pay a last tribute to all that is earthly of a loved friend, Mrs. Carrie Lassagne. The floral tributes, from far and near, were most exquisite, and in keeping with the beautiful life that was ever mingling with, tutoring and culturing the embryonic flowers in both plant and human life. Even the flowers that she had taught her pupils to cherish and care for, were brought in loving remembrance.

Rev. P. C. Fletcher, now of Fayetteville, formerly pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, of this city, and intimately associated with the deceased in the Fortnightly Club and the Civic Improvement Association, and various other organizations for the good and advancement of the city, in a brief discourse, paid a touching tribute to the beautiful character and work of the deceased that is so well known to all our people.

Rev. Chesnut, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, also assisted in the services which were very impressive. The male quartette, composed of Messrs. Claffin, Dean, Monagan, and Wood rendered some very appropriate selections after which the journey to the cemetery began.

At the grave surrounded by the bereaved husband, relatives and friends last rites over the remains were performed and they were lowered into their last resting place.

The funeral cortege was over one mile in length and all realized as it wended its way to the cemetery that one more bright life had been removed to be seen no more, a pure soul taken into the great beyond and then the realization of how hard it would be to never see again the loved form crowded into the heart, and many eyes wet with tears were seen all along the route.

Following are the floral gifts which were tastily arranged by loving hands:

Dr. Edmund Lassagne and sister, Miss Zoe, wreath of hyacinth and white carnations.

Mrs. Jennie Wadsworth, wreath of white roses.

Mrs. Pitts, large bouquet of geraniums and chrysanthemums.

Misses Mamie Puckett, Lessie West and Blanche Davis, white roses and asparagus ferns.

Mrs. Daisy H. Cherry, Sherman, Tex., white carnations and ferns.

Baroness Moncheur and Miss Kathleen Clayton, Washington, D. C., exquisite stalks of white chrysanthemums and spirea.

Prof. and Mrs. C. S. Barnett and Miss Millsaps, beautiful pink and variegated roses.

Mrs. Mabel Bennett, Washington, D. C., wreath of white Marshaneil roses and ferns over two feet in length.

Mrs. J. A. Bridgford and Miss Edna McGee, cluster of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. J. W. True, red and yellow chrysanthemums.

Alumni Association, pink roses, chrysanthemums and carnations.

Mrs. Josie L. Reed, yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. M. F. Gear, chrysanthemums and ferns.

The physicians of the city, and their wives, Messrs. and Mesdames Davis, Reagan, Bolton, Jordan, Ellis, Tatman, Bergstresser, Krebs, Floyd, Lenox, contributed a beautiful cross and crown, the cross of white carnations, the crown of red carnations, the base of pink carnations, all closely woven and interspersed with white roses.

Mesdames Russ and Mearns, white roses, carnations and ferns.

The old Chautauqua class, of which consisting of Mesdames C. E. Foreman, Joe Freeman, Rosewater, Regan, and Misses Palmer and Forshey, white carnations.

The Class of 1900, Mattie Hyde, Lena Spencer, Maude Rainwater-Fuller, Belle Spencer, D. G. Wilson, Lenora Langdon, Belle Willis and Nora Poyater, white roses.

Class of 1901—Isabelle Murphy, Hattie Thornton, Marshall True, Fay Volner, Rowland Clark and Pearl Hancock, white and pink roses.

Class of 1902—Hazel Dickens, Aurie Taggart, Ida Riley, Dovie Hyde, Laura Willis, Malard Hicks, Homer Porch, Marie Roberts, Belle Graham, Reginald Williams, Ollie Taggart, Chas. Miller, Lydia Jordan and Edith Volner, white and pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Crider and Mrs. Glenny, chrysanthemums and ivy.

Mrs. Booth and Miss Kate Ferguson, roses and carnations.

Miss Zoe Johnson, heart of violets, sweet eysium, and violet pillow.

Floyd-Whiting

Friends in this city have received notice of the approaching marriage of Miss Clara Whiting and Dr. R. G. Floyd of Eureka Springs, Ark. Miss Whiting has lived in Cedar Rapids the past ten years and has a host of friends here who love her for many graces of character, which are enhanced by her personal beauty and pleasing manner.

Dr. Floyd is a prominent physician of Eureka Springs, standing high in his profession and in social circles. He has known his fair bride-to-be from her childhood. Her friends unite in congratulating Dr. Floyd on his success in winning so admirable a woman for his wife.

The wedding will take place December 8th at the home of the bride's aunt in Topeka, Kas., and the wedding trip will include a month's visit in California, after which they will be at home to their friends in Eureka Springs, Ark.—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Republican.

Dr. R. G. Floyd left this city quietly last Tuesday evening and will be married tomorrow in Topeka, Kas., to Miss Clara Whiting at the home of the latter's aunt.

The groom is one of our city's most reputable physicians and his choice for a life partner, is pleasing to his many friends.

His little daughter, by a former marriage, will now receive the kind and loving attention of one who will be all that a mother can be to her and a future life of happiness we are sure awaits the little bride.

Miss Whiting is a young lady of many accomplishments and will grace the doctor's handsome residence as one to the manor born.

Many years of her life has been spent here and upon their return to this city they will be warmly welcomed by all their friends.

Immediately after the wedding they will leave Topeka for a month's trip to points in Colorado and California, after which they will return to this city.

We extend congratulations one day in advance and wish both of them a happy and prosperous journey upon life's pathway.

A Good Work

The great amount of advertising that the Eureka Water Company is sending out daily, is bringing quick returns in almost every case, and while it is simply a matter of business for the company, at the same time it is doing our city a great deal of good.

The British consul located at St. Louis, is a recent customer of this company and through him alone many of our people are getting good living waters.

A few weeks ago a shipment of water was made to J. H. Campbell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at El Paso, Tex., and last week the following reply was received:

"Your favor of Nov. 10th, received some time ago, in reply will say that I received the shipment of Eureka water in good condition. I found it to be very excellent water and believe that it did considerable good. It is almost too expensive to ship so far although possibly it would be the cheapest medicine that one could get in the long run. What are hotel accommodations and rates in Eureka Springs, and what can good rooms be secured for with private families. With kindest regards and best wishes for your success, I am, etc., etc."

By the above letter, which is only one of many daily received, one can readily see what future results will be and every encouragement possible should be given this company. Kickers and knockers ought to be converted sometime into the belief that anything for the city's good ought to be helped along, instead of trying to push it backward.

Card of Thanks

We desire to first thank Heavenly Father for allowing our wife and mother to remain with us during so many happy years, the attending physician and her nurse, we also thank for their kindly ministrations to her every want. To all who so graciously volunteered their services, we feel that words cannot express our gratitude, and also to the kind gentlemen who bore the remains to their final rest. Lastly we hold in remembrance, her pastor, for his fitting words committing her to the tender keeping of her Heavenly Father.

LITTLE ROCK WILL BUILD THE RAILROAD

The Citizens' Mass Meeting Decided to Build the Road—Will Raise $100,000.

"Whereas, Col. C. C. Godman has submitted a proposition to the citizens of Little Rock to the effect that he and his associates would organize a company and construct fifty miles of railroad from Little Rock north to some point in the vicinity of Quitman, in Cleburne county, Ark., if the citizens of this city would raise a subscription of $100,000 to the capital stock to aid in the enterprise, the entire stock to be subscribed before he organized the company:

"Resolved, That we accept Col. Godman's proposition and raise the subscription of $100,000 at once.

"Resolved that the president of the Board of Trade be authorized to appoint a general citizens' committee of fifty or more to represent the citizens and the Board of Trade, the president of the Board of Trade to be ex-officio chairman, in securing the subscription and co-operating with Col. Godman in carrying out the contract between him and the citizens."

The above resolution covers fully the action of the mass meeting at the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon, when the matter of the building of the new road to the north was discussed.

The meeting was attended by a large number of the representative business men of the city and a deal of enthusiasm was manifested as the meeting proceeded.

W. S. Mitchell stated that he desired to start the ball to rolling with a subscription of $1,000. To this was added a like subscription from Plunkett-Jarrell Grocery Company. W. W. Dickinson stated that he held himself in readiness to subscribe $1,000 to every road building into Little Rock. He regretted that there were not at least nine more to which he could subscribe a like amount to at that time.

The committee met at 2 o'clock this afternoon to organize and to get to work. The active canvass for the $100,000 will begin this afternoon and should be completed by Saturday.

Aftermath

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—From a scene of enjoyment and festivity to the busy turmoil of packing exhibits, demolishing structures and clearing out the World's Fair changed in one night. Puffing switch engines shunted cars throughout the grounds today conveying packing materials to the different exhibit places and the sound of the hammer was heard throughout.

It is estimated that probably three months will intervene before the exposition has been depleted of exhibits, and the work of clearing up and restoring that part of Forest park will begin with the advent of spring. Large forces of workmen were distributed through the grounds today and these will be augmented as the days proceed. Every effort will be made to clear away the exhibition with dispatch. United States soldiers paraded the grounds today guarding the exhibit places, foreign and state buildings, and assisted the Jefferson guards. A small crowd of sightseers invaded the ground, but were lost sight of among the workmen.

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—The clear and pleasant weather that had prevailed until the close of the exposition gave place to dark and threatening conditions, with prospects of an early cold spell. Reports at the headquarters of the Jefferson guards at the World's Fair indicate that while there was an unusual amount of hilarity on the day and night of the exposition, arrests were but few. Five men were taken into custody, three for drunkenness and two for disturbing the peace. The officers of the guard state that compared with the experiences of former expositions the destruction of property was meagre.

More Rumor

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—The rumor is again rife that Hon. Powell Clayton, ambassador to Mexico, will be among the first of the ambassadors to tender his resignation to the president early in the beginning of the next administration. It is the uniform custom for men holding high diplomatic positions to tender their resignations at the commencement of a new administration.

Miss Kathleen Clayton, the accomplished and charming daughter of Ambassador Clayton, and sister to the Baroness Moncheur, wife of the Belgian minister, is making a short visit to the Belgian legation in this city.

Her Hand

"Sir," began the timid youth, as he entered the office, "I am in search—er—that is, I came to seek your daughter's hand."

"Well, it isn't anywhere in this vicinity," interrupted the stern parent. "She's probably using it as a piano-hammer about this time of day."

For One Cent

Postmaster Rosewater has informed us that the Special Edition of the Times-Echo can pass through the mails for one cent postage, where put up in wrappers which correspond with those used at this office. One cent postage will therefore carry them to any point in the United States.

In the game of "frenzied finance" Mrs. Chadwick appears to be as good a man as any of them.

How would it do for Mississippi to select a gentleman for her governor next time? Time was when the selection of any other would have been shouted down in the old state. However, it is altogether probable Mississippi will never repeat the Vardeman travesty on political decency.—Hot Springs News.

There is a good time coming boys. There is every reason to hope for better days. England, France, Germany and the United States have $500,000,000 worth of battleships and modern big guns in the course of construction and are expected to send a full line of delegates to the international Peace Conference.

There is one thing in this world that wholly depends upon ourselves, and that is the determination to be fair with all, and forever doing that which is fair and right. Popularity may not always follow, but reasonable happiness and contentment will always be with the man who is honest with himself and always does what he knows to be fair and right.—Harrison Times.

The official returns from the presidential election held in this state are as follows: Parker, 64,206; Roosevelt, 46,734; Watson, 23,144; Debs, 18,161. Parker's plurality, 13,132. In 1900 Bryan's plurality was 30,315 and in 1896 Bryan's plurality was 73,310. The Democratic nominees for Congress received the following majorities: R. B. Macon, 14,280; S. Brundidge, 36,777; J. C. Floyd, 272; J. S. Little, 29,567; C. C. Reid, 70,851; J. T. Robinson, 36,999; R. M. Wallace, 13,147. Macon and Wallace had no opposition.

John I. Worthington will be a candidate for United States marshal for the western district of Arkansas. This is an application that should find ready endorsement at the hands of the Republicans of the state. There should be no sentimental guff in favor of any man who has run for office. Fitness, coupled with loyal work for the party, alone should be considered. Mr. Worthington fills the bill. He wants the office; the Republicans want him. It should then, be an easy matter to control those who think there recommendations go.—Yellville Republican.

It may seem strange, but it is nevertheless true, that alcohol, regularly applied to the thrifty farmer's stomach, will remove the boards from the fence, let cattle into his crops, kill his fruit trees, mortgage his farm, and sow his field with wild oats and thistles. It will take the paint off his building, break the glass out of his windows and fill them with rags. It will take the gloss from his clothes and the polish from his manners, subdue his reason, arouse his passions, bring sorrow and disgrace upon his family, and topple him into a drunkard's grave. It will do this to the artisan and the capitalist, the matron and the maiden, as well as the farmer; for, in its deadly enmity to the human race, alcohol is no respecter of persons.—Ex.

Our city is practically in mourning today in consequence of the sad intelligence which reached here yesterday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Caroline H. Lassagne. Truly she was one of nature's noble women, so recognized by hosts of our citizens who were familiar with her many splendid qualities. Reared here from childhood, she has always displayed a mentality and disposition that has won admiration and praise. A born scholar, she won signal honors through the various grades of our public schools, and finally in the Normal University of Ohio and the Chicago University.

Afterwards she was selected as teacher of the high school in this city, and her regime in that capacity proved one of great advancement, and she won the undying gratitude and love of the students under her charge. There are many incidents that might be recalled exemplifying her public spirit and generosity, but it is enough to note here, that while her worth was so generally recognized, nothing pained her more than praise or publicity. While she was president of the Civic Improvement Association, and during various other periods when her acts were of a public nature, and most deserving of publicity, the press of the city was repeatedly warned not to mention her acts in connection therewith only when absolutely essential.

A Dangerous Drug

Recent investigations into the harm that results from the use of wood alcohol have occasioned alarm among the medical fraternity and the public is warned against its deadly effects. Wood alcohol is substituted in many instances for grain alcohol, because it is much cheaper. Unscrupulous druggists sell wood alcohol because their profits are much greater. Eye specialists have traced many cases of total blindness to the use of this alcohol, and more than 200 deaths are attributed to its use within the past year. The public does not know it, but it is a fact that a certain class of drinkers use alcohol in a diluted form because it is cheaper than whisky. Sooner or later they ascertain that wood alcohol is still cheaper and fall under its baneful effects. Death will follow excessive drinking, and if the victim escapes it is only a short while till blindness follows. It is asserted that bay rum and witch hazel contain a large per cent of wood alcohol, and the use of these preparations on the face in shaving has frequently resulted in blindness. It is certain that wood alcohol is a dangerous thing to fool with and the legislature should prescribe the conditions under which it may be sold.—Ex.

Forecasting

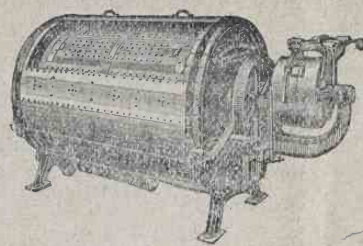

The greatest showman this country has produced once said that the American people loved to be humbugged, and there is abundant evidence to prove that Mr. Barnum was an excellent judge of human nature. There are many people, with as many schemes, who are constantly humbugging the people; all are a detriment to the public, but none are so perniciously detrimental as the self-styled weather prophets. Generally the average fraud is practiced upon a comparatively few, whereas, the so-called long range forecasters practice their arts upon the entire public. The basis of all frauds is the financial reward for the person or persons perpetrating the fraud, and so it is with the so-styled weather prophets. They care nothing for the advancement of the science of meteorology, they are in the business for the revenue only. The science of meteorology, by reason of its importance to mankind and the great part it plays in the economy of human efforts, is the object of much speculation by this class of weather prophets; if they were sincere in their belief they would be willing to allow recognized scientists to examine their methods, thus doing all in their power to assist in the discovery of those unknown laws of meteorology which all true scientists are endeavoring to ascertain. The advancement of meteorology is hindered by encouraging pretensions that have no standing among scientific men.

Astrology has no standing as a science. It makes its appeal to the ignorant and superstitious. Astronomy is one of the genuine sciences; any astronomer of repute will deny that long-range weather predictions, or weather forecasts of any character, can be based upon astronomical data of any sort whatever. And so it is with meteorology. It is one of the genuine and recognized sciences, and its conclusions are everywhere received with respect. The time has not yet arrived when the forecasting of weather changes a season in advance is possible. Any writer or forecaster, who endeavors to make his readers believe that it is possible, either in whole or in part, to predict the weather, is either uninformed or mendacious.

In its very nature, the weather depends on an infinite variety of causes, conditions and combinations between them. It is not susceptible of long-range prediction. The weather forecasts as now published by the U. S. Weather Bureau are reliable because they are made in accordance with known scientific principles. They are based on observed phenomena and on the calculated movements of storm centers. They are for specified periods of time and for limited areas, and while they are not always verified by results in every part of the territory they cover, they are successfully verified more than eighty per cent of the time. The predictions of the long-range forecasters are crude and indefinite; they are based upon no recognized law or physical principle, and are without legitimate standing. It is true that many intelligent and generally well-informed people have confidence in these self-styled long range weather prophets, but a little study and investigation on their part, will prove to the satisfaction of any reasonable person that such confidence is misplaced.

In time it may be possible to foretell the general characteristics of the weather for a month or a season in advance, in a general way, but that time has not yet arrived. It is a problem of the future. Until it is possible to make these general seasonal forecasts it is better to accept the short range forecasts of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

May Go to Senate

"R. C. Kerens, or Dick Kerens, as he is known in his old haunts in Arkansas, is making a strenuous effort to break into the United States senate by way of Missouri," said Ross L. Irving of Kansas City, a caller at the state house yesterday, and himself a former Arkansan.

"It wouldn't surprise me to see him land the toga, either, now that the legislature of Missouri is Republican. Kerens is rich, shrewd and capable of making a good senator in all save oratory. He is a better stage driver than an orator, and it was in Arkansas, up about Van Buren and Fort Smith, that he won his way handling the reins. Thousands of western Arkansans remember Dick Kerens in his early struggles, and they like him, regardless of politics, because they know he is a fellow who has the true ring about him, a self-made man, and one of the best hustlers on earth in politics or business. About the time Dick Kerens left Arkansas Tom Bowen went to Colorado, and later was elected to the United States senate. Kerens, however, settled down in a Democratic state, and for years has been the mainstay of the Republican party in Missouri. He is up against a hard fight now, because the woods are full of Republicans that want to go to the senate from that state. But Dick Kerens can give 'em all cards and spades and beat 'em until it's a shame when it comes to the details of political organization, and that's what it takes to win."

Green Forest Items

E. S. Foreman and bride came over from Eureka Springs Sunday. Mr. Foreman returned in the afternoon, however, business affairs requiring her presence there Monday. While the people of Green Forest have to congratulate Mr. Foreman on winning the hand and heart of such an amiable companion, yet we regret that the incident will probably cost us the loss of a good citizen, as he will probably join his wife in Eureka Springs, where she has considerable business interests.

Mrs. C. E. Foreman was over from Eureka Springs Sunday to dine with the newly married folks at the Foreman homestead. Mrs. Foreman never misses an opportunity to visit Green Forest, which place she still calls her home, when she is where Eureka folks are not listening too closely.

A. M. Crump and family of Eureka Springs have been with us this week. Arch is here in the interest of the railroad company. Mrs. Crump is visiting old friends and acquaintances.

J. B. Reeves has disposed of the entire out-put of the Green Forest Cannery to an Oklahoma City firm and he is now engaged in loading. He will ship seven cars from here.—Green Forest Tribune.

Mineral Notes

One of the richest discoveries of zinc that has lately been made is that of the Hickman Bros., on the Tar Kiln, 15-19-18, on the land adjoining the property known as the Tar Kiln. The latter had been worked with a good showing, the cuts, the shaft and the drill revealing a fair amount of zinc. As the drilling was done with a churn drill the Hickman Bros. decided to prospect their land on the tract immediately up the branch with a diamond drill. The drill, after passing the surface, entered a deposit of twenty feet of mill ore, near the bottom of which was a run of two feet of nearly free ore, the core being brought out in pieces.

This land had been previously prospected in the usual manner, which consists of cuts and digs, and good jack has been found, enough to warrant the Rhode Island company in paying a good price for that portion purchased from I. N. Linton, the original owner. There is carbonate in boulders near and on the surface, but beneath is the great run of blende that can be worked without interference of water.

This land is but four miles from the railroad station, with a good road, and it is claimed steps will at once be taken for its development into a mine.

Last week R. B. McIlhenny, ore buyer for the Cockerill Zinc Co., purchased three cars of zinc concentrates from the Silver Hollow and one car from the Bonanza. This week he is out after more and will be able to make a better report by the end of the week. His company has four smelters in the Missouri and Kansas coal and gas-fields, and will use all the ore that can be obtained here.

More drill holes have been put down on Jimmies creek than possibly any other ore section of this entire field, and the good part about it is that out of all the holes put down on this creek there have been very few blanks. In most instances the runs found are so rich as to forever set at rest the question as to whether or not Jimmies creek is rich in zinc.

Mr. Ed Payne this week received a telegram from St. Louis in which Mr. Belding, president of the commission, states that the government agents had made a special request for the mineral from this zinc field, which they desire to remove to Washington. After consulting a number of citizens interested an affirmative answer was telegraphed back.

This is the only zinc field which has won a gold medal at the World's Fair, and its mission in Washington should be to convince some of the officials that this is in reality a mineral country instead of agricultural as at present held, although there is much good agricultural and fruit land here.

It will at least attract much attention, for even if the janitor of the Smithsonian Institute should arrange it, it will be in shape to be seen by those interested in zinc.—Yellville Republican.

Knocks Out Act

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 4.—Telegrams poured into Little Rock today from adjoining states, asking for information regarding the opinion of the Arkansas supreme court yesterday on the non-resident hunting law passed by the last legislature. The decision is one of the most important given in recent years by the supreme court.

Section 4 of the DeRossitt game protection law, making it unlawful for non-residents to shoot, hunt, fish or trap at any season of the year in Arkansas, which was passed by the general assembly of 1904, was declared unconstitutional in so far as non-resident land owners hunting and fishing on their own lands are concerned.

The supreme court in State vs. Mallory, held Saturday that the De Rossitt game law, passed by the last general assembly, is unconstitutional.

The majority opinion, delivered by Justice McCulloch, after discussing extensively the right of the owner of lands to hunt and fish upon same and holding same to exist, is to the general effect that the De Rossitt law, in attempting to prohibit non-resident land owners from hunting upon their own lands, contravenes that provision of the federal constitution which guarantees to residents of one state in another the like privileges and immunities of citizens of such other state.

Chief Justice Hill and Justice

Battle dissented, and in an elaborate opinion by Chief Justice Hill, the position is taken that the legislature of each state has the power to regulate the killing of game within its boundaries, and that the De Rossitt law is a valid exercise of this power.

Haul Apples

"Think of hauling farm products one hundred miles to market with mule teams and over mountain roads part of the way," said E. L. Martin of Searcy county, who was in the city yesterday. "That is what is being done right here in Arkansas, with Little Rock as the objective point. I have in mind two Searcy county boys, almost young men, who have cleared $100 apiece since August hauling apples from our county to Little Rock and selling them.

"It is a pretty long haul and the roads are by no means turnpikes. But the Little Rock market is worth coming to, even from Searcy county. Nowhere else can we get $2 per bushel for our apples, although, to tell you the truth, Searcy county apples are well worth that money. The fact is that trade relations with the capital city are being strengthened not only so far as Searcy county is concerned, but in respect to other portions of the state, too. It is a mistake to assume that politicians can always make the country people believe that the capital city is dangerous, that it is the rendezvous of bad men who are plotting against the rights and liberties of the yeomanry.

"Returning to the apple question however; up in Searcy county we think we raise the finest apples on earth, and I reckon Little Rock people about agree with that view, for they pay good prices to get apples from our county, and cheerfully. We have a railroad, the St. Louis & North Arkansas, in our county, which at present hauls trains to Leslie and sends them back again. Before long that road is going to be extended to Little Rock—mark the prediction!—and then the capital city folks will come up to see us and wonder why they didn't know before about that part of Arkansas."—Arkansas Gazette.

The Best Local News as Gulled from our Daily.

From Thursday's Daily.

W. S. Gunter, today enters upon his duties as night watchman at the St. Louis & North Arkansas depot, and we are sure that his services will be highly acceptable to his new employers. Mr. Gunter for the past two years has been on our police force and his ability as an officer of the highest grade. No one has ever suffered at his hands and Chief Hudgens lost a very good man when Mr. Gunter resigned. Messrs. Betten and Logue who are now on the force are excellent men and will see that our city's welfare is guarded in a zealous manner.

The dance at the Wadsworth-Floyd hall last night was attended by quite a large number of people and a good time was enjoyed by all. The evening's musical program consisted of popular airs and was donated by Hawley & Co., whose stock of music is par excellence. One feature of the evening which was regretted by the gentleman who came by themselves, was the absence of many young ladies who usually attend. This time the men had to act as wall flowers.

Mrs. Hannah Vincent entertained the Euchre Club yesterday in the parlors of the Hotel Wadsworth and a large number of our social set was present. Light refreshments were served and a pleasant time enjoyed by all. When Mrs. Vincent was hostess of the Chautauqua house her social events were all very popular and even now the name achieved as an entertainer, is not on the wane.

Mesdames Hawkins and Brodie had a very narrow escape while out on North Spring street last evening but luckily they jumped from the vehicle in which they were seated, in time to escape injury. While driving out there last evening the horse ran into a wood pile near the William's cottage and partly wrecked the buggy. The horse had its shoulder badly hurt.

Ed Cunningham returned yesterday morning from Los Angeles, Cal., where he went several weeks ago seeking a location. Ed says he thinks Arkansas is good enough for him but, still gives as his opinion that that country can't be excelled for its richness and hustling people. All the Eureka Springs colony are doing nicely and are contented with their new homes.

Mrs. Florence Robison and son, who have visited Joe Porch and wife for sometime, left on the evening train for Seligman, where she will visit Lee Roberts and family before returning to her home in Hot Springs.

The case of the State vs. Erby Wilson, of Beaver, was concluded yesterday and the defendant was discharged for lack of evidence.

Malard Hicks has returned to Texarkana, Ark., after a very pleasant visit with home folks and friends.

Misses Lillie and Ida Tate accompanied their cousin Mr. J. D. Dick to Little Rock this week.

C. E. Goodwin, of Fort Smith, is among our late arrivals and is at the Hotel Wadsworth.

E. S. Evans and T. J. Brumfield are out east of this city today hunting.

From Friday's Daily.

N. G. Brown is in Harrison today looking after business.

The First Baptist church will have an old fashioned Christmas tree, Christmas eve night.

W. B. Brown returned this morning from Joplin, where he has been for several days looking after business matters.

Messrs. Jordan and Bergstresser are out near Kings river today initiating Chas. S. Duncan, of Gettysburg, Pa., into the mysteries of Arkansas hunting.

Will Snoddy, who for several months past has been in the employ of W. J. Lloyd, leaves Monday for Coweta, I. T., where he will accept a position with our former townsman, J. H. Dickens.

Deputy Sheriff Golden was in Berryville yesterday on business. He reports work on the new court house as progressing slowly but says that it will be a handsome structure when completed.

Sheriff Tom Morris yesterday placed a man named Bohanan in the county jail at Berryville. The prisoner is held on an indictment found at the last term of court, and also for an offense committed a few weeks ago.

The meetings which have been held at the Presbyterian church for the last two weeks, close tonight. Rev. Chesnut during this period has delivered excellent discourses and quite a number of large congregations, and good results for the church will no doubt be the outcome of his labors.

Manager Walker of the Crescent hotel, left last Wednesday for St. Louis to look after business matters. It is rumored that when the hotel reopens next March, a new manager will be in charge, but Mr. Walker and family will remain here for sometime, in order to secure a much needed rest.

The surgeons who have S. A. Leath's case in hand, performed a very severe operation on him last Tuesday, and have yet to perform three more, but find it necessary to build him between each operation, as he has been on the verge of nervous prostration since getting hurt at the Berryville fair last year.

Dr. Chas. E. Davis returned this morning from St. Louis, where he went to procure pictures that were on exhibition in the Arkansas building. Yesterday was Francis Day, and the Doctor says it was the greatest day he ever saw. The schools were dismissed, and all school children and all the city's poor, were admitted free. The Doctor estimates that there must have been 250,000 people on the grounds.

The Baptist Young People's Union, gave a social last night at the home of Mrs. Vestal. The program was piano solo, by Edna Davenport, recitation by Vesta Bailey, solo by Clara Brown, recitation by Mabel Kizer, piano solo by Vesta Bailey and a reading by Laura Willis. The parts were all well rendered and heartily applauded. At the end of the program a contest was participated in, to see who could spell the most words out of the two words, Springfield Missouri. First prize was won by Miss Laura Willis, second by Miss Edna Davenport. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time was spent by all.

From Saturday's Daily.

Mrs. Annie E. C. Life, wife of George M. Life, died at the family residence on North Spring street last night. Three weeks ago the deceased, accompanied by her husband and son, arrived in this city from St. Louis where they had been seeing the fair, and while making the trip she contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia later on. A rapid return to health was begun but a relapse a few days ago caused her death. She was sixty-three years of age, and her loving presence will be greatly missed by her husband and son who have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad affliction. Funeral services will be held at the family residence tomorrow, Rev. Chesnut officiating, after which the remains will be interred in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wickersham celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home Tuesday. This popular old couple are pioneer residents, having come here twenty-two years ago, both native Kentuckians and were married in Woodford county, Ky., at the youthful age of nineteen and fifteen respectively. Mr. Wickersham was for years a leading contracting plasterer here, but a fall on an icy pavement two years ago injured his hip, forcing him to give up his active life. Mrs. Wickersham is remarkably young looking for her age, and beloved for her many deeds of charity. Both old people have been prominent in church work for many years.

Mrs. W. A. McCormick leaves on this evening's train for Plainfield, Illinois, where she will join her husband, and together they will visit relatives for a week or two. Mr. McCormick is an entertainer of wide fame, and is on the road almost continually at this period of the year, but hopes to find time to visit his wife and parents in this city in January. Mrs. McCormick will be absent about two weeks.

Quite a large number of young folks went out to Pine Grove school house last night to attend a box supper and an enjoyable time is reported. Miss Lena Meeks of this city and Nellie Arbuckle, who lives in that section, were declared the best looking young ladies present and were awarded a large cake.

Dr. W. H. Lenox of Rogers, arrived in this city yesterday and with his son, Dr. S. L. Lenox, went out a few miles south of this city where they amputated Wm McCollough's right leg just above the knee. A bone trouble made amputation necessary.

Track laying on the White River railroad was completed to Keener yesterday evening and the construction train arrived there shortly after. The track laying will reach Bergman on Oregon Flat tonight it is thought.—Boone Banner.

The Citizens Electric Railway Company had a great deal of trouble this morning on account of ice on the trolley wire. For sometime traffic on the line was seriously impeded, but no damage to the company's property was incurred.

Mrs. L. P. Langdon and daughter, Edyth, of Prophetstown, Ills., arrived this morning for an indefinite visit in this city. Mr. Langdon arrived several days ago. They are domiciled at the Heller cottage.

Wm. Shannon proprietor of the New St. Louis House, returned yesterday morning from St. Louis where he has been for sometime.

John A. Bridgford says that in order to keep up with the style he has been obliged to put on his overcoat. John is very obliging.

From Monday's Daily.

Relatives of Mrs. S. R. Mearns gathered at the Russ cottage last evening and celebrated the birthday of their hostess. A delightful repast was served by Mrs. H. E. Russ, after which all repaired to the parlor where an impromptu musical program was rendered. Mrs. Mearns was very much surprised, but her pleasing way of entertaining did not fail her and all departed voting their hostess an excellent one.

Mr. Joe Cannon and family, of Quincy, Ill., are late additions to our community, who are seeking a location. They are relatives of J. H. Wilson, who lives out on the Pivot rock road, and are at home with him at the present time. Mr. Wilson's son is an orchestra leader, and thinks of forming an organization here. They are good people and will be welcomed by our citizens.

Miss Kate Kreider who for some time has been employed as trimmer for Mrs. F. Sawdon, was married in Little Rock yesterday to Wm. Buchanan. They will make their home in Prescott, Ark. The many friends of the happy couple join with us in wishing them a happy voyage on life's sea.

We were informed today that Ed Simpson, formerly an employee at the freight depot in this city, received a two year's sentence to the penitentiary for embezzlement. He had charge of a Frisco station somewhere in the Indian Territory and made away with over 100 railway tickets.

Von Williams has purchased a large stock of candies, etc., from Mrs. Foreman, and will conduct a business in the room formerly occupied by the Eureka Candy & Extract Co. Von is an industrious young man and has had years of experience in this business. We bespeak an excellent patronage for him.

Inquiry on the part of Mrs. Phillips corroborates the report that Miss Fannie Douthit, generally known as Fannie Phillips, was married in Springfield, Mo., September 24, to J. A. Henges, a machinist in the Frisco shops.

Three cases of stock running at large will be tried in the police court today. The city officers are determined to stop this nuisance, and hardly a day passes without some one being made pay a fine and costs for this offence.

The following composed a merry party that spent yesterday at Blue Spring: Messrs. Bergstresser, Duncan and Chas. S. Duncan, of Gettysburg, Pa.; Misses Beatrice Wood, Inez Black, Ruby King and Nancy Stevin.

C. H. Bartlett returned yesterday from Kansas City where he has been for the past two weeks. E. M. Warner, of Mussatine, Ia., accompanied him and will visit here for several days.

A. T. Riley accompanied by C. H. Pyle, left this morning for St. Joe, Ark., where they will spend a few days looking over the mineral field.

H. J. Herzig, of Ellsworth, Kas., arrived last week and will be in the city sometime seeking health and recreation. He is at the Pence.

Robt. Van Hook and Miss Maggie Clark of Clifty, procured a marriage license at the clerk's office this week.

J. R. Tatman and mother, of Siloam Springs, Ark., are in the city visiting Dr. A. E. Tatman and wife.

Mrs. Mina O. Brand who has been a guest at the Calendar cottage, leaves tonight for Citronelle, Ala.

L. Henson, of Springdale, Ark., is in the city today.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Wm. Karnopp, representing the National Biscuit Company, of Kansas City, was in this city yesterday.

F. Didea today sold $85 worth of cut glassware which will be presented to a bridal couple in the near future.

J. P. Dolan master-mechanic of the St. Louis & North Arkansas shops, was called to Garrett, Ind., this week to be present at the bedside of his father who is seriously ill.

J. E. DeWolfe and wife, of Chicago, who have been at the Pence house for some time left yesterday for their home. They will return after Christmas to remain for a longer stay.

D. B. Wright and family, who spent sometime at the Pence house, returned last Saturday to their home. Mr. Wright is enthusiastic over our resort and promises that all his vacations in the future will be spent here.

Mrs. F. W. Johnson, of Salem, Mass., is a recent arrival in the city and is at the Pence house for the winter. She is an accomplished musician and will add much to social events at this popular hostelry.

Jim Martin, formerly a resident of this city but who for the past few years has been living in Oklahoma has returned to this city. Jim says that Oklahoma may be noted for its richness but it can't compare with Arkansas.

R. A. Carson and wife, of Columbus Miss., who have been at the Crescent for sometime left Sunday for their home. They came here for the benefit of Mrs. Carson's health and we are pleased to announce that she was much improved.

Dr. Regan reports the arrival of a little girl at the home of Frank Shuman this morning. Grandpa Shuman was noticed a little later preparing breakfast. He says the more girls around the house the more work he finds to do. Mother and babe are doing well.

Fashions decree changeth oft But baby's needs—no, never! Styles may come, styles may go. But for the babe "TEETHINA" ever. "TEETHINA" (Teething Powders) Counteracts and Overcomes the Effects of the Summer's Heat, Aids Digestion, Regulates the Bowels of children of any age and makes teething easy.

Dr. Almon Brookes, a noted physician of Chicago, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Pierce, arrived in the city yesterday. They have rented the Tatman cottage on North Spring street and will spend the winter here. In a few days they will be joined by Mrs. Brookes. The doctor for a number of years was one of Hot Springs' most noted physicians and we hope that his stay with us will be a pleasant one.

E. D. Malloy a guest at the Pence from Las Animas, Colo., although a quiet sort of a man enjoys the distinction for holding the world's record in lassoing a steer and tying it. At Lamar, Colo., last August he carried off two great honors, namely that of tying a steer in eleven seconds and winning the relay race. For years he has followed a cowboy's life, and is here now recuperating in order to be ready for next year's work. His description of the famous outlaw rendezvous, The Hole In The Wall, is quite interesting and he says that it would be almost impossible for an army to dislodge the people who inhabit that locality. Only one entrance can be made into this place and at all times this is heavily guarded.

From Wednesday's Daily.

One case of stock running at large was scheduled for this morning but was postponed on account of the absence of the city attorney who is in Little Rock. The case is the city vs. Jno. Cook and it is presumed that Mr. Cook will fight it when the case is called. It is said that he is of the opinion that non-residents are immune from the law, but an amendment to this ordinance not long ago made it just as bad on non-residents as it is on our citizens. It is no more than justice that people in the suburbs who allow their stock to roam at large in the city limits should be fined the same as citizens and we are of the opinion that judgment will be rendered in favor of the city.

We learn today that Manager Walker will accept his old position at the Planters Hotel in St. Louis within a few weeks. While passing through St. Louis a few days ago, Henry Weaver, of the Planters, asked Mr. Walker to resume his old position in the office of the hotel, and not desiring to remain here for the three months that will ensue before the Crescent reopens, he accepted the proffered position. Next summer he will have charge of a hotel at Mackinaw, Mich.

Freeman & Kimberling are rapidly finishing their new barn and are making some very substantial additions. The elevator has been installed and is now doing daily service in hoisting their feed into the second story. Today a new baggage wagon was put into service and his hauling a car load of hay up to the barn.

While opening a box yesterday Mayer Rosewater received a wound from a nail, which will probably cause him much pain. A nail entered his lower lip going through making a very deep wound. Medical aid was at once procured and he is getting along nicely today.

E. S. Foreman and wife are shipping their household goods today to Green Forest where they will make their home in the future. They will leave for that place tomorrow. We are sorry to loose this estimable couple but know that they will visit here often.

The remains of Mrs. Knight, wife of one of Harrison's most prominent citizens, arrived in the city yesterday enroute to the old home in Huntsville where interment will be made. The bereaved husband and several friends accompanied the remains.

Messrs. Barnes, Brown and Volner enjoyed a fox hunt last night. The coveted brush was not secured but a good time was had nevertheless. Wild cats seemed to be much in evidence, so they say, and the dogs chased them all evening.

The Fuller Furniture Co., is framing a picture for the Sisters of Mercy of this city, that is an excellent piece of work. It is an oil painting of the Madonna and Christ Child, and came to this country from Rome, Italy.

The pupils of the various schools in this city are making preparations for their Christmas program which will probably be rendered on the Friday before Christmas.

Judge E. G. Mitchell, of Harrison, who has been in the city for the past two days looking after business matters, returned home this morning.

I. W. Pence and wife, of Hillsboro, Ohio, arrived this morning and are at the Pence house. They will probably remain for the winter.

Rev. P. C. Fletcher arrived this afternoon from Fayetteville and officiated at the services over the remains of the late Mrs. Carrie Lassigne.

Railroad Items

The new time table which goes into effect Sunday, Dec. 4th at 4 o'clock a. m., makes the following changes in trains that arrive and depart from this city.

The freight which runs between this city and points East leaves here at 6:00 a. m., and arrives here at 6:25 in the evening.

The early morning passenger between this city and Seligman, leaves here at 5:40 a. m., and is due back here at 7:55 a twenty-minute wait is made by this train here for breakfast and at 8:15 it proceeds on East, returning to this city at 4:35. The local between this city and Seligman which in the past has left at 9:20 a. m., will leave under the new schedule at 8: a. m., and is due to return here at 12:01 p. m. The 5:05 p. m., will leave at 5:00 bound for Seligman to connect with the Frisco's north and south bound trains and will return here at 7:50 p. m.

Good weather and a rushing business tends to make all connected with the St. Louis & North Arkansas railway, wear a broad smile. Just compare for instance the road twenty years ago and the road today. At the former period there was hardly any work to look after, today a very large force on this and the Leslie division keeps all hands hustling.

The many friends of Clyde West are glad to learn of his recent promotion to the station agency at St. Joe, Ark. Clyde is a young man, but his good work has earned him recognition far in advance of what his age calls for.

Will Callendar, now night operator at Seligman is another young man whose progress while in this company's service has been very rapid. He like Clyde West is a deserving young man and his many friends are glad to learn of his success.

Presley Alderson, a fireman on the Leslie division of this road, had the misfortune this week to lose his little child, whose death occurred a few days ago. Mr. Alderson has many friends on the line, all of whom sympathize with him in this sad affliction.

S. J. Larkins a machinist who has been with the Frisco system for several years, has accepted a position in the St. Louis & North Arkansas shops in this city. Mr. Larkins is an experienced workman and is a valuable addition to Master Mechanic Dolan's force.

Engine No 5 received a new set of tires this week. This work a few years ago could not be done at the shops in this city and had to be sent to some point on the Frisco, but with improved facilities in the shops here, anything in this line can now be done. This work is interesting to the inexperienced and a visit paid there, while it is being done will prove a very good lesson.

Master Mechanic Dolan wears an unusually bright smile this week on account of the fact that his wife and children are expected home from an extended visit to northern points.

Traveling Passenger Agent R. H. James arrived today and brings encouraging news in regard to this winter's travel, and he is also enthusiastic over the prospects for next summer's season.

A. J. Crow, machinist helper in the shops here, is taking an enforced lay off this week on account of the serious illness of his son.

Now that the great World's Fair is over trainmen on this line and in fact every line in this section are drawing sighs of relief, because once more will they resume their routine work and will not be handicapped on account of late trains and other difficulties, which they have had to contend with during the past season.

Geo. Cleveland and wife, of Central City, Ia., arrived this morning to spend a week with Freight Agent Smith and family. Mr. Cleveland is agent for the Illinois Central railway.

For Over Sixty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Resigns

The regular meeting of the Commercial Club last week while not very largely attended proved to be very interesting and many matters pertaining to the city's good were discussed.

The resignation of Dr. R. G. Floyd was read by the secretary and on motion was laid over until the next meeting.

Dr. Floyd has made an excellent officer and his resignation is regretted by all of the members of the club.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for sometime. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by J. S. Porch, Druggist.

Police Court.

The police court last Friday presented for the eye of the casual visitor a picture of battle that had been accomplished within the past twenty-four hours, and on both sides great interest seemed to be manifested. Thursday evening Joe Macklin and Chester Tuttle became involved in a quarrel and when they were finally pulled apart Chester had a gash over the left eye and several cuts on his head. Macklin came out of the fray with only a few bruises said to be inflicted by a rock, but still ready for more gore. This morning both were up before his honor, Judge Lane, and Chester was fined $3 and costs and Joe was given a fine of $1 with usual trimmings. Joe seems to think that most of his dusky companions have a grudge against him, and of course is ready at all times to meet whoever wants trouble, but it costs money to maintain a sporting career, therefore Joe spends a great amount of his earnings in helping the city.

Heart Fluttering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart troubles you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle. Sold by J. S. Porch, Druggist.

Mr. Guerny Here

Mr. James Guerny, of St. Louis, is again a visitor in the city, having arrived yesterday, and is shaking hands with his many friends here, who are always glad to welcome him. Now that the great World's Fair is over, his time will not be so greatly in demand in St. Louis, and our people hope that he can spend more of it in our midst. Mr. Guerny and his daughter ran down for a few days as he says, "to see how our hills looked." Mr. Guerny owns a large parcel of the summit of East Mountain, and to this land he intends to add beauties of handiwork, like those of St. Garden and Tower Grove Park in the great World's Fair city, a home for his declining years. It could be found anywhere, we believe, and that it has fallen into such good hands is a matter of great satisfaction to our people.

Mrs. Swett

Words are too weak to attempt to chronicle the life-works of that has passed away and we feel that when called upon to mention the death of a loving mother wife, not enough can be said to lighten the load of sorrow that loved ones have to bear.

Mrs. Geo. W. Swett passed away last Monday at the family home of Mountain street and when her beautiful soul left this earthly sphere there went with it one of the most kind and devoted mothers and a wife that has helped share the joys and sorrows of her faithful helpmeet for over forty-three years. To the raising of her children she had devoted a greater part of her life and when it came time for her to bid them farewell she well knew that each had fulfilled her hopes and will emulate her example for a time to come.

Mary E. Dodson was born in Licking county, Ohio, May 28th, 1835. In December, 1861, she was married to Geo. W. Swett, and in 1885 the family came to this city. Four children were born to this couple, all of whom are today known and honored by our townspeople.

She was a member of the Christian church from earliest childhood and those who called upon her, marveled at the Christian-like manner in which she accepted her suffering.

During the past seven months she has been confined to her bed suffering from a complication of diseases, but through it all she endured the pain in a martyr like manner.

The children bereft of the mother's love are Mrs. H. T. Pendergrass, G. Grant, Phin T., and Frank Swett, of Lebanon, Mo.

The funeral services will occur Thursday afternoon, and the hour and place will be announced later.

Elected Officers

At a regular meeting of Crystal Camp No. 11, W. O. W., held last night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

R. E. Norvell, counsel commander. James W. Owens, adviser lieutenant.

W. H. Brown, banker. O. M. Clark, clerk. Jack Brown, Jr., escort. W. C. Barnett, watchman. Walter Martin, sentry.

John M. Whitehead, manager. R. G. Floyd, Chas. E. Davis and M. R. Regan, Camp Physicians. One new member was introduced into the Camp. Large attendance on part of the membership.

After the Camp was closed refreshments were served by the committee appointed for that purpose, and a pleasant social time was had.

WHITE'S Cream Vermifuge

THE GUARANTEED WORM REMEDY THE CHILDREN'S FAVORITE TONIC. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. THE GENUINE PREPARED ONLY BY Ballard-Snow Liniment Co. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Rebekah Lodge

Ruth Rebekah Lodge had an interesting meeting this week. Two petitions for membership were received. One candidate was balloted for. Next meeting there will be three candidates for admission to membership. The following of ficers were elected for the ensuing term:

Mrs. Martha Pickering, Noble Grand; Mrs. Annie House, Vice Grand; Mrs. Jennie L. Wadsworth, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Maude Shuman, Financial Secretary; Mrs. Chryseis Sanford, Treasurer.

Under good of the order remarks were made by Rev. J. H. DeLano, Mrs. Sarah DeLano, Mr. Zachariah Dougherty, Mrs. Lavinda Dougherty and others. The prize in the guessing contest fell to Mrs. Della Kimberling. Light refreshments were served. Mrs. G. J. Klock was tendered a vote of thanks by the lodge for the interest she had taken in the evening's entertainment.

Cured Paralysis.

W. F. Bailey, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frostbites and skin eruptions. It does the work." Sold by J. S. Porch, Druggist.

F.M. Campbell

Mr. O. M. Clark received a dispatch last Tuesday from the master of the Masonic lodge at Granite City, Ill., informing him of the death of F. M. Campbell and that his body would be taken to Johnstown, Pa.

Mr. Campbell was a prominent factor for years in Eureka Springs and many will regret to hear of his death.

Letter to Mr. James Rice.

Eureka Springs, Dec. 7, '04.

Dear Sir: James Ackley's house in Cairo (Catskill Mountains), N. Y., a conspicuous one in the midst of the village, was painted fourteen years ago with Devoe; has not been painted since; and the paint is in good condition today. He is going to paint; but there's really no necessity of it.

Devoe has been sold in Cairo 18 years. Our agent is Gaston Wynkoop, house owners there want Devoe, and painters there paint Devoe. It would be a hard job to persuade a Cairo man to paint lead and oil of course a painter paints whatever his customer wants, even if it's buttermilk.

Marian Van Hoesen, a Cairo painter, has painted Devoe for 15 years. There are two or three others; all for Devoe, we are told—don't know their names.

It's the same wherever Devoe gets into a town; it stays there and owns the whole business.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. S. Charles Blair Hardware Company sells our paint.

Remarkable Cure.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedgwick county, Kas., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by J. S. Porch, Druggist.

From the government report of cotton productions in the United States, we see the name of Arkansas as having produced 832,700 bales. Well, our state isn't half so far behind others who make this a specialty, as we thought she was.
